Sewing by Machinery.

To Journeymen Tailors, Seamstresses, employers, and all others interested in sewing of any description.

SMITH'S Patent Premium Sewing Machine, invented by Lemuel W. Smith, and manufactured by Rogers & Phelps, Nos. 12 Harvard Street, Boston. Mr. Smith is assisted in the public exhibition of his machine and will be constantly present to explain its principles and operations, and to instruct purchasers in the best method of using it.

This Machine will perform every description of sewing, both useful and ornamental, in a manner superior to any hitherto invented, and will do from 500 to 1500 stitches per minute according to the fabric to be sewed. It will stitch from one to six rows at a time, and will perform every description of sewing, from the finest muslin to the heaviest cloth, in a manner superior to any hitherto known.

Every machine will be warranted to perform well for any length of time, and to be free from liability to get out of order. And it is believed to be the most simple in its construction, and the least liable to get out of repair of any machine ever invented and manufactured.

The price of one of these machines, which is worked by a treadle and capable of sewing any ordinary garment, will not exceed the price of a first class sewing machine, and will be furnished with two sets of attachments, one for sewing on fringe, and the other for gathering and sewing on ruffles, which will be sold at a reasonable price.

These machines are so constructed that they occupy but little more room than a common sewing machine, and they take up so little room that they are an ornament to any lady's sewing or work room.

An Agent, with whom exclusive arrangements will be made, is wanted in every city and town in the United States.

All applications for Agencies, and all orders for machines, must be addressed (post paid) to the subscribers, who will be carefully attended to.

All applications for Agencies, and all orders for machines, must be addressed (post paid) to the subscribers, who will be carefully attended to.

All communications must be post paid and addressed to SINGER & HELES

John S Sayward, Editor

SATURDAY, JANUARY 11, 1851

Bangor Mechanics' Association.

The annual meeting of this Association was held at their Hall on Thursday evening Jan 9th when the reports of the several departments were read and accepted

From those reports we learn that the amount in the treasury at the commencement of the year was—cash $70 18 uncollected assessments $168 00—At the present time—cash $388 45, uncollected assessments, $100 00, making a total of $497 63

The expenditures for the last year have been $512 42

There are no outstanding debts against the Association

The Association have an insurance of $800 on the library, furniture, &c.

The whole amount received for Dr Jackson's thirteen lectures is $865 80, and the expenses have been paid, as also his compensation for all the lectures so far delivered. We would add in this connection that we understand the Association are now negotiating for a course of very able lectures on Natural History to be delivered at the opening of the lecture season next autumn

The Library now contains 1385 volumes, all of which were on the shelves of the library at the annual meeting. The number of books taken out the last year by members and their families is 2291

The Cabinet of minerals contains 600 specimens and many of them of great value

The Cabinet of curiosities contains 337 specimens in cases.

The Librarian's report mentions with much satisfaction the fact that the absent members of the Association in their wide journeyings have not been unmindful of the Association, but have forwarded specimens of minerals and curiosities of nature and of art to enrich its cabinets

Donations of books have been made to the library the last year by Dr Amasa Barrett Hon H Hamlin, Hon Charles Stetson, Rev Church Association of Maine Joseph Carr Dr Wm Bartlett, Charles P Kimball, and Dr C T Jackson

The donation of Jos Cary, Esq consisted of thirty-six volumes of the New Edinburgh Encyclopedia

Donations to the cabinets have been made by H K Adams, Wm P Wingate P B Rider, Sylvanus Rich Wm S Mitchell W A Wingate Joseph Kimball, John M Snyder, J W Strange, and A Friend

The condition and prospects of the Association are bright and encouraging. The present number of members is 175. Two have died during the year, four have withdrawn and nine have removed from the city. The decrease of members does not by any means correspond to the benefits which the Association offer to its members, for the small annual fee of two dollars which is imposed upon its members. The use of a library of nearly fourteen hundred volumes the maintenance of useful lectures, opportunities for debates and for the mortifying exercises in literary composition the free examination of a large cabinet of minerals and curiosities together with the other advantages growing out of the weekly meetings in a comfortable and well furnished Hall these surely, one dollar and two dollars a year and can not well be dispensed with by any mechanic who understands the advantage of social intercourse with intelligent minds and of mutual progress

The Association have now a fund of about $300 which may be put at interest as a permanent fund to be expended by and by for what may be added to it to give them a comfortable dooming room, the ownership of a good Hall in addition for all their purposes. This is a point to which, we think extra vigilance should be used to begin to look and perhaps as the time for approaches, there may be some well-hearted and able friend who will give them substantial aid in such an undertaking.

☞ A slip from the office of the Congressional Press states that Nov 7th is received by the Washington and published in the Mercury yesterday contains a letter dated on board the Pacific and Oriental steamship Benganza Nov 6th stating that during the morning of the 30th ult, and a few hours before she left Hongkong several despatch boats came in from Macao with the melancholy tidings that the Portuguese frigate Donna Maria Segunda of seventy guns had at 12 o'clock the day previous (29th) in honor of the Governors birthday with 21 guns, blown up between 2 and 3 o'clock part of the destruction of that ship and the whole of her crew, about a dozen excepted.

Some of the letters state that besides the officers and crew of the unfortunate ship a party of Portuguese officials from Macao and Amoy as well as those from the United States ship Marion who had been invited to dine on board, were already assembled and perished in the general wreck

☞ It will be seen on referring to our telegraphic despatch this morning that the Massachusetts legislature have agreed upon the names of the locos and free soil candidates for Governor as the two out of the four highest to be elected, from both of whom a choice is to be made to-day. By agreement between the coalition Mr Boutwell will to-day be elected Governor of Massachusetts for the year ensuing and soon Mr Rantoul will be chosen U S Senator for the short term and Mr Sumner for the next term of six years.

Thus the locos and the free soilers join hands and stick at nothing, so that they but divide the spoils

☞ Let no young man or young woman be discouraged, and think because they are not as high as some, that they cannot rise. They can. Arch-bishop Hughes of N Y city, when 20 years old, was an Irish cabbage gardener—he may yet be Pope of Rome. Millard Fillmore, our President, was once a poor ignorant tailor boy, Benjamin Franklin was a poor printer's devil, Madame Roland was the daughter of an obscure engraver. We might mention hundreds of other instances of people who were as poor, toil worn, and ignorant in youth, as any now are, but who have, by self education, risen to high posts in life.

☞ The debate in the U S Senate, on Mr Bradbury's resolution as to the causes of removal of officers, has so far shown so many causes of removal that now the leaders of the locos pretend great fears that the administration will not furnish a existence of causes to give the general impression that there were existing causes against every man removed. That result we don't work according to the wishes of its friends but to its plague

Reception Compost for Fertilizing Gardens. Reduce to any quantity, say not over one ton, add to them 10 per cent of sulphuric acid or breaking the bones without the acid may be collected from one cord of meadow muck mixed with 4 bush of unleached wood ashes or 4 bush of leached ashes. To this may be added lime charcoal dust and any vegetable matter.

The ashes will greatly forward fruit trees, all roots and plants of all kinds. When applied to the roots of fruit trees direct it promotes a rapid growth and the fruit is larger and increases it also very much.

☞ The Kennebec Journal states that the Mayor and Engineers of the city of Augusta have decided upon three engines of hose, steamers manufactured by Messrs. R Button & Co at Waterford N Y. They will throw five streams each, which is said to be, and are considered the best engines now in use. They will cost the sum of $3500 each, 500 feet of hose with hose carriage will make the whole expense to be about $12000 each.

☞ The Mobile Register of December 7th announces the arrival there of Hon Duff Green late Secretary of the Fire and Marine Insurance Company of that city, as specific to call at last information in a position to pay more than half its capital. The bearer of despatches on this occasion is Judge Wm Gaston at the instance of the President of the Company, and the object is the arrest of embezzlement

☞ The Boston Atlas brought news last evening of the capture of the British Government steamer Sampson by the Russians at the mouth of the Danube. She was formerly in the employ of the Cunard line, and was engaged in the Crimean war.

The Past, Present and Future.

A new era is about to dawn upon the world. Never before, in the history of man, has the human race advanced with such rapid and gigantic strides, in science, in art, and in mental, moral and physical knowledge as within the last half century. How startling and yet how true a picture of it would in their progress be, and the triumphant events which distinguished the past half century, during Dec 31, 1850—The march of Progress has in no part but overleaped its own bounds of the first century of the Christian era. Then the British Isles, as they were known by the Romans, were inhabited by a few naked savages, who lived in caves and dens of the earth, and who were always at war with each other, and frequently with the Romans, who were then the masters of the world. Their only weapons of defence were clubs and stones, and their only food was the flesh of wild animals. Their only clothing was the skins of beasts, and their only habitations were caves and dens of the earth. Their only means of transportation was by canoes, made of the trunks of trees, hollowed out by fire and stone hatchets. Their only means of communication with each other was by the howling of wild beasts, and the yelling of savages. Their only means of subsistence was by the chase, and their only religion was the worship of the sun, moon, and stars, and of the spirits of departed warriors. Their only idea of a God was a being who delighted in war, and in the shedding of human blood. Their only idea of a heaven was a place where the spirits of departed warriors could go and live in idleness, and feast upon the flesh of wild animals, and drink the blood of their enemies. Their only idea of a hell was a place where the spirits of cowards and women could go and live in misery, and feast upon the flesh of reptiles, and drink the blood of serpents. Their only idea of time was by the changing of the moon, and the only way they had of keeping a record of events was by tying knots in strings of bark, and by hieroglyphics painted upon the rocks. Their only idea of government was that might made right, and that the strongest should rule. Their only idea of law was the will of the strongest. Their only idea of marriage was that a man could have as many wives as he could buy or steal, and that he could put away any of them whenever he got tired of them. Their only idea of the female sex was that they were inferior beings, and were only created to be the slaves of men. Their only idea of the duties of children to their parents was that they should obey them implicitly, and that they should kill them when they became old and infirm, and unable to provide for themselves. Their only idea of the duties of parents to their children was that they should teach them to be brave warriors, and to kill their enemies, and to scalp them when they killed them. Their only idea of the duties of husbands to their wives was that they should provide them with food, and protect them from their enemies. Their only idea of the duties of wives to their husbands was that they should obey them implicitly, and that they should be ready to die for them at any moment. Their only idea of the duties of men to each other was that they should kill each other whenever they met, unless they were members of the same tribe, and that they should eat each other when they were killed in battle. Their only idea of the duties of women to each other was that they should be jealous of each other, and that they should fight each other whenever they met. Their only idea of the duties of children to each other was that they should fight each other whenever they met, and that they should kill each other whenever they got a chance. Their only idea of the duties of parents to children was that they should kill them when they became old and infirm, and unable to provide for themselves. Their only idea of the duties of children to parents was that they should kill them when they became old and infirm, and unable to provide for themselves. Their only idea of the duties of husbands to wives was that they should kill them when they became old and infirm, and unable to provide for themselves. Their only idea of the duties of wives to husbands was that they should kill them when they became old and infirm, and unable to provide for themselves. Their only idea of the duties of men to each other was that they should kill each other whenever they met, unless they were members of the same tribe, and that they should eat each other when they were killed in battle. During the past month we have had a variety of stories circulated necessarily against ourselves, which commenced in the Western section of the country, and the aggregate of sickness in our city and to vast an extent, that their effects, the derangement have been heavy from all sections of the globe, and in some instances of goods, merchandise by cash shall be regarded as failures have been forced into the market in such immense quantities as to depress the prices of all kinds. When applied to the roots of fruit trees, time to promote a rapid growth and the fruit is larger and increases it also very much.

☞ The Kennebec Journal states that the Mayor and Engineers of the city of Augusta have decided upon three engines of hose, steamers manufactured by Messrs. R Button & Co at Waterford N Y. They will throw five streams each, which is said to be, and are considered the best engines now in use. They will cost the sum of $3500 each, 500 feet of hose with hose carriage will make the whole expense to be about $12000 each.

The Past, Present and Future.

A new era is about to dawn upon the world. Never before, in the history of man, has the human race advanced with such rapid and gigantic strides, in science, in art, and in mental, moral and physical knowledge as within the last half century. How startling and yet how true a picture of it would in their progress be, and the triumphant events which distinguished the past half century, during Dec 31, 1850—The march of Progress has in no part but overleaped its own bounds of the first century of the Christian era. Then the British Isles, as they were known by the Romans, were inhabited by a few naked savages, who lived in caves and dens of the earth, and who were always at war with each other, and frequently with the Romans, who were then the masters of the world. Their only weapons of defence were clubs and stones, and their only food was the flesh of wild animals. Their only clothing was the skins of beasts, and their only habitations were caves and dens of the earth. Their only means of transportation was by canoes, made of the trunks of trees, hollowed out by fire and stone hatchets. Their only means of communication with each other was by the howling of wild beasts, and the yelling of savages. Their only means of subsistence was by the chase, and their only religion was the worship of the sun, moon, and stars, and of the spirits of departed warriors. Their only idea of a God was a being who delighted in war, and in the shedding of human blood. Their only idea of a heaven was a place where the spirits of departed warriors could go and live in idleness, and feast upon the flesh of wild animals, and drink the blood of their enemies. Their only idea of a hell was a place where the spirits of cowards and women could go and live in misery, and feast upon the flesh of reptiles, and drink the blood of serpents. Their only idea of time was by the changing of the moon, and the only way they had of keeping a record of events was by tying knots in strings of bark, and by hieroglyphics painted upon the rocks. Their only idea of government was that might made right, and that the strongest should rule. Their only idea of law was the will of the strongest. Their only idea of marriage was that a man could have as many wives as he could buy or steal, and that he could put away any of them whenever he got tired of them. Their only idea of the female sex was that they were inferior beings, and were only created to be the slaves of men. Their only idea of the duties of children to their parents was that they should obey them implicitly, and that they should kill them when they became old and infirm, and unable to provide for themselves. Their only idea of the duties of parents to their children was that they should teach them to be brave warriors, and to kill their enemies, and to scalp them when they killed them. Palse's Light.

The Springfield Republican furnishes the following explanation of one of the mysteries of this invention

It has been claimed, heretofore by Mr Hance, that water was a simple substance. The manner by which he arrived at this conclusion was very unnatural one. By communicating with the water with one pole of his apparatus he obtained all he sought by the other all oxygen. The natural conclusion would be that it decomposition really took place but were the two united gases of which water is composed, the two liberated gases would both manifest themselves. If they did not this manifest the inference was that the water was all resolved into oxygen or hydrogen, depending upon whether positive or negative electricity were used in the process.

A day or two before our visit to Mr Paine, he had been visited by Prof Doremus of New York who offered him a solution of the mystery which Mr Paine immediately admitted the reasonableness of and which we doubt not will do away with some of the prejudices entertained by scientific men to want Mr Paine's claim that water was a simple substance, being in entire accordance with well established facts. Prof Doremus supposes, that decomposition really takes place and that the oxygen combines with the hydrogen all the while, but that it immediately on its evolution forms the peculiar kind of hydrogen. This is the only rational solution of the difficulty and no doubt is the true one. It will thus be seen that after carrying on the decomposition for any length of time what is left in the water is not pure water and the necessity of frequently altering the fluid in the battery will be obvious. Mr Hance may be a non-professional, but we would judge that he had given up the one to which he was so naturally led.

The Philadelphian has the following paragraph as to the next session of Congress

All the important committees in Congress could not even clean out of the business in arrears of legislation, much less attend to any new business. By the time the session of Congress shall be ready to begin, all the important parts of the country will be represented, and the new members will be in session a thousand fold, and the property, the enterprise, the industry, the intelligence and the importance of the whole country will be represented among the things that will be considered by the next Congress, and Europe, Asia, Africa and America shall be included in the two or one common brotherhood.

Such a sketch, and but a faint sketch of the progress which the human race has made during the last half of the Nineteenth Century!!

Jenny Lind property, like everything else about Jenny Lind, has been a topic of much talk and remark in the papers. One who speaks confidentially about the matter states that Jenny's father and mother (she has no other relatives) are supported by her, she having engaged prior to her marriage with Mr Goldschmidt to settle upon them from property which she had held by herself in her own name the sum of $8000 annually. She also fully determined never to return to live at for even a single day, but to remain abroad with the exception of occasional visits to Sweden during the summer season. It is also known that her husband has been advised by her friends to invest the bulk of the fortune derived from her American engagements in real estate in Sweden and in the purchase of government securities there, so as to secure to her and her children a permanent income. It is also said that she intends to devote her personal energies to the education and training of her children, and that she will not appear in public for several years to come. Jenny Lind is a noble woman, and we think that she should make a namby-pamby, money-seeking fool of herself by singing for money, when she has already more than she can spend, and when she knows that she can lose nothing in the estimation of the world by retiring from the stage. Mr Walter Woods—We learn that a party of active oak timber cutters who left Falmouth early in the fall for one of the southern States to complete a contract for the timber which they had engaged cutting last year, have returned after being forbidden to go on further with the cutting. The southern proprietor of whom the parties cut the timber was made informed our Falmouth friends upon their arrival that such was the state of public feeling there towards the people of Massachusetts on account of the slavery agitation here, that he was compelled to break the contract he had made with them and they might take away the timber they left upon the ground, cut last year but he would not suffer them to cut more. He further expressed his regret at the necessity of this course. He acknowledged his obligations under the contract with the men and would do whatever he honorably could to compensate for its non fulfillment.

We further learn that the southern coasting trade in which the citizens of Falmouth have for many years been extensively engaged has been very seriously injured by the same cause and some of the coasters have returned north, with their bus nose entirely broken up.—Bangor Whig & Courier.

Massachusetts Legislature — Candidates for Governor

BOSTON Jan 10

The Massachusetts House of Representatives sent up to the Senate the names of Boutwell (loco) and Phillips (free soil) as candidates for Governor. The election will take place to-morrow.

Congress.

WASHINGTON Jan 10

In the House—Mr Evans of Ohio introduced a bill to authorize pensions entitled to bounty lands under act of last September to receive treasury scrip in lieu of land warrants.—Referred. Mr Johnson of Tenn asked but did not receive consent of the House to introduce a bill to give a farm to every head of family who settles all patriots of Texas.

Mr Bennett introduced a bill which was referred granting State of New York a just and equal proportion of public lands with that granted to other States.

The House resumed the consideration of the New Hampshire contested election case.

☞ The Pittsburgh Observer states that the feet of Mr J H Tibbetts of Brownsville were badly frozen last week while he was traveling with a team on Chesuncook Lake. Both feet have been amputated and we learn by a letter to a friend that he is doing well.

The same paper states that Mr Carr of Dorchester was killed last week by the upsetting of his load in a snow drift.

☞ Dr Bates has signed the office of Superintendent of the Insane Hospital, and has been appointed by the Governor and Council to visit other institutions in the United States with a view to report what improvements can be made in this State.

☞ There were no papers by the mail this morning.

☞ We are requested to state that the Universalist Society will hold their meeting next Sabbath afternoon at the Union Street Church instead of at the Market Hall, as before stated.

City of Bangor.

In the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty.

An Ordinance establishing a system of accountability on the Expenditures of the City.

SECT. 1. Be it ordained by the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council of the City of Bangor, in City Council assembled, that there shall be annually appointed by the City Council a Joint Standing Committee of Accounts, whose duty it shall be to meet once a month and as much oftener as they shall deem expedient, to examine carefully examine all unliquidated claims and accounts against the city, and certify the same to be correct, when found to be so, with a view to their being paid. They shall hold meetings in the month of March, annually, and prior to the second Monday of said month, of which meetings, previous notice shall be given in one or more newspapers printed in the city, for the purpose of examining all accounts against the city which have accrued during the preceding year, or are then unsettled, and after having examined and filed the same, they shall report specifically thereon to the City Council, that the same may be liquidated, and money raised for that purpose. And the members of said Committee shall receive from the City Treasury for their services, such sum as the City Council shall annually determine.

SECT. 2. Be it further ordained, that no money shall be paid out of the City Treasury, except on orders drawn and signed by the Mayor, designating the fund or appropriation from which said orders are to be paid. And the Mayor is hereby authorized to draw on the Treasurer for all compensations to City Officers, and such sums may be fixed for their payment by the City Council, and also for the payment of all accounts which shall be presented to him after their allowance.

SECT. 3. Be it further ordained, that it shall be the duty of the Mayor to keep, or procure to be kept under his supervision, in a method and manner, as he shall direct, a book in which shall be stated the appropriation for each object of expenditure, and no account shall be opened with the Treasurer and Collector, in case said Treasurer is the Collector of the city, otherwise with the Treasurer, in which he shall be charged with the whole amount of Taxes placed in the hands of the Collector for collection, together with all the other moneys received by him on account of the City fund which may be drawn for by the Mayor. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to collect and receive all rents which may be due to the city, and under the direction of the Mayor and Aldermen to deal and execute all leases of City land or buildings; he shall also receive all fines and penalties which shall be paid to him from time to time by the City Marshal.

SEC. 4. Be it further ordained, that an Ordinance establishing a system of accountability in the expenditures of the City, passed April 22, 1831, and all and every to repeal a part of said ordinance, passed April 5, 1841, be, and the same are hereby repealed.

DR. RODGERS'
Galvanic Belts and Respirators.

THE diseases to which these are principally adapted are Female Complaints, Nervousness, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, general Debility, and all those depending upon want of vital power, for it is a well established fact that galvanism and vitality are identical and that those who wear the belt, furnish themselves with a continual flow of the vital fluid itself, which declares why this belt has been so eminently successful.

THE Great American Remedy

FOR Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup, and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, has now been so long before the public, its reputation so well established, both from the recommendations of the parties, and from the invariable testimony of its infallible virtues by All who have used it, that it must very soon supercede the use of every other article in the same and kindred complaints. As a family medicine, it can never be put down. It double the usual dose, it almost invariably saves the child in the first stages of croup, and it cures and quiets it in one night. For quite a number of years it has been the favorite and universal remedy in all the eastern states, of one of the most celebrated and skilful Physicians.

Sold wholesale and retail by R. K. HARI & Co. No. 3 Harlow's Block, Bangor; and by Druggists generally throughout the country. All orders will be promptly attended to. dec 12
